Standard Kiss

Give your date a simple kiss.

- Do you like firm or soft kisses better?
- How about longer or shorter ones?

French Kiss

Lean together into a simple kiss, open your mouths and touch tongues lightly. Enjoy the feeling of your tongues moving against each other. Note: do not move too deeply into your partner's mouth.

- What did you like the most and least?

Sniff Kiss

Popular in Asian nations where public kissing is frowned upon, the sniff-kiss doesn't involve lips at all. Lean into your date and put your nose near their cheek, ear, or neck. Inhale their scent deeply.

- Did it give you goose bumps or tingles?
- Describe how they smell and what you like about it

Nip Kiss

Instead of kissing with your lips, lean in close and gently bite your date's lower lip, being very careful not to bite too hard.

- Do you like little bites mixed in with our kisses?
- Do you like it harder or softer?

Eskimo kiss

Put your faces close together and gently rub noses back and forth, up and down, or any which way you like.

Butterfly Kiss

Get close to your partner and flutter your eyelids against their cheek, neck, lips, or nose.

Upside-Down Kiss (Spiderman Kiss)

Have your partner lie on their back or sit in a chair and lean their head back. Lean over and give them a kiss with your heads pointed the opposite direction (noses near each other's chins).

- Describe how that was different than a regular kiss

Flavored Kiss

Take a bite of strawberry, orange, piece of candy, or anything else and then give your date a French kiss.

Mystery Kiss

Head to the local supermarket or candy shop and each pick out a bunch of flavors you like – this could be things like root beer barrels, toffee, grapes, strawberries, etc. (jelly bellies work well). Don't show each other what you bought. Take turns closing your eyes while your partner eats a bite and then gives you a French kiss. See if you can guess the flavor!

- What flavor turns you on the most?

Sucking Kiss

When kissing with an open mouth, gently suck on your date's lower lip. Pull away slightly while kissing but not too much.

- Do you like it when I do that?
- Would you like to try with me?

Vacuum Kiss

When your lips are pressing together, gently suck the air out of your partner's mouth.

- What did that feel like?

Fish Kiss

Suck your cheeks in so that both of you look like fish and try to kiss each other before you burst out laughing. Keep trying until you succeed.

The non-Kiss Kiss

Lean in close to your date until your lips are barely touching, slide your lips back and forth against each other's without puckering.

- Did that feel nice or was it a little tickly?

Lick Kiss

Instead of touching your partner's lips with your own, lean in closely and gently run your tongue over their lips. End with a light kiss.

- Was that sexy or weird?
- Do you want me to do it again sometime?

Tease Kiss

Lean in until your lips barely graze each other's and pull back slightly. Do this a few times, enjoying the feeling of your partner's breath before kissing.

- Was that sexy?

Candy Kiss

While French kissing, pass a piece of hard candy or gum between your mouths.

- Who has the most coordinated tongue?

Ice Kiss

While French kissing, pass a small piece of ice between your mouths.

- Do you like the cold?

- Should we work ice into anything else we do?

Capture the Candy Kiss

Put a Skittle, M&M, or other small candy in your partner's mouth and see if you can find it and move it to your mouth. Don't use anything larger than Skittles or M&M's.

- How did it feel for me to explore your mouth?

Sliding Kiss

Expose your partner's feet, ankles, legs, stomach, and neck. Have them lie down and gently kiss them on the foot and slide your lips up to the ankle, knee, thigh, stomach, and finally neck. Make sure to kiss the areas lightly as you work your way up.

- Which areas did you like the best?

- If I go back will you tell me EXACTLY how you like it?

Hickey

Gently, but firmly suck on your partner's skin until the area is pink or red. Do this in an area that can be covered by clothes.

- Do you like the way that felt?

- Harder or softer next time?

From Behind Kiss

Hold your date from behind and when they turn their head, move yours around to meet them and kiss.

- Did you like the way I held you?

- What would make it better?

Downward Kiss

Starting at the ear, kiss down along your partner's jawline to their neck or collarbone.

- Do you like it when I kiss those areas?

- Which part was your favorite?

Tickle Kiss

Start by giving your partner a normal kiss and then start tickling their ribs, stomach, or underarms. See how long you can continue while you're both laughing.

Slow Motion Kiss

Kiss your date at one-half or one-quarter speed.

Opposite Kiss

If you usually kiss with your heads tilted to the right, try kissing with them tilted to the left.

No Lips Kiss

Lean in close, open your mouths slightly and rub tongues without touching each other's lips.

Blow Kiss

Give your partner wet kisses on their neck, back, or shoulder (their choice). Pull back slightly and gently blow on the area to give them a cooling sensation.

- Do you like the way that feels?

Woodpecker Kisses

Have your partner close their eyes and give them short, quick kisses all over their face. See if you can cover their entire face before you burst out laughing.

Lady and the Tramp Kiss

You both hold one end of a piece of licorice, taffy, fruit, or whatever in your mouths and eat until you're kissing.

Shocking Kiss

Shuffle around the carpet until you build up an electric charge, lean in close until only your lips meet and give off a spark.

High Low Kiss

Lean in and kiss your partner's upper lip, then pull back slightly and kiss their lower lip.

- Which lip do you like me to kiss the most?

Kiss on the Hand

Take your partner's hand and give it a light kiss on the top or palm.

- How was the position, duration, and pressure?

Kiss on the Cheek

Kiss your partner on the cheek.

- Do you prefer it when I kiss your cheek straight on or only with one side of my lips?

Kiss on the Neck

Hold your partner from the front or back and kiss them on the neck.

- Was that close to your favorite area?
- Do you like it softer or firmer?
- Want me to try some little bites?

Frog Kiss

Move in close, open your mouths, and touch tongues quickly and briefly, like a frog trying to catch a fly. After 1/2 dozen touches press in for a long French kiss.

- Describe how that felt

Kiss on the Ear

Lightly kiss your partner's ear, gently nibble or suck on the earlobe. Just once, lightly explore their ear with your tongue, many people don't like this but you never know.

- Which parts of the ear turn you on the most?
- Do you like me to use my tongue or lips only?

Kiss on the Back

Ask your partner which part of the back they want kissed. Pull up their shirt and kiss the area gently, rubbing your lips, chin, cheek, and nose around the spot.

- Do you like it firmer or softer?
- Would you like to feel some little bites?

Kiss on the Foot

Ask your partner where their feet are ticklish. Avoiding those spots, lightly kiss them on the top of the foot, ankle, or toes. Give them a little tickle when you're done.

- Do you like having your feet kissed?
- Would you like your toes nibbled or sucked? Are they clean? ;-)

Kiss on the Nose

Hug your partner close and give them a soft kiss on the tip of their nose.

- How did that make you feel?

Kiss the Navel

Pull up your partner's shirt and gently kiss them on their navel. Use your tongue to explore the area.

- Was that ticklish?
- Close your eyes and describe EXACTLY how you want me to do it.

Kiss the Eyes

Ask your partner to close their eyes. Start by lightly kissing the cheekbone once, the eyebrow once, and then very gently kiss their closed eyes.

- Tell me what you liked about it

Pop Rocks Kiss

Put some Pop Rocks in each of your mouths and French kiss.

- Was that fun?

Switch Kiss

With this kiss you're going to kiss your partner the way they usually kiss you and vice-versa. If they're taller, start by standing on a chair, and use the style they do, kiss the lip they kiss, put your tongue in their mouth if they usually put theirs in yours, hold them the way they hold you, you get the idea. This can be a real eye-opener!

- What did you like most and least about it?
- What was it like kissing yourself?
